DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 22 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 22, the claimed "extracting" analog television signals lacks antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1,6,10, 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Park et al. U.S. Pat. No. 5,592,235.

Considering claims 1, 6,10, Park et al. (hereinafter, "Park") discloses a terrestrial/cable broadcasting signal receiver for HDTV. A ground/cable broadcasting receiver for an HDTV for receiving both ground and cable channel broadcastings of an HDTV is disclosed including: switching means for selecting ground broadcasting or cable broadcasting; a TCM decoder for symbol-detecting and error-correcting a baseband signal of the ground broadcasting for HDTV; discriminating means for symbol-detecting a baseband signal of the HDTV cable broadcasting; and a multiplexer for selecting and outputting one of the signals output from the TCM decoder and the discriminating means according to the switching means so that ground broadcasting receiver and cable broadcasting receiver are coupled to form a single receiver. (See, Abstract) As illustrated on Figure 1, the system of Park comprises a tuner 51, an IF filter sync detector 53 (corresponding to the claimed sync signal detector), NTSC rejection filter 55 (corresponding to the claimed analog television signal rejection filter), sync extractor 54, and a multiplexer 58 (which corresponds to the claimed switching circuitry). Therefore, Park discloses all claimed subject matter.

Claim 16 is a method claim of claim 1 and, thus, claim 16 is rejection for the same reasons as in claim 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 5, 7 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Park.

Considering claim 5, Park discloses sync detection. Park does not specifically horizontal and vertical synchronization pulses. However, the examiner takes official notice in that in display systems a synchronization signal comprises both vertical and horizontal pulses or signals, and therefore, it would have been obvious to the skilled in the art to readily recognize that the sync detector in the system of Park detects both vertical and horizontal pulses.

As to claim 7, Park discloses NTSC signal rejection filter. It is well known in the art the NTSC rejection filter detects and filter analog television signal. PAL is another analog television format used in Europe. The NTSC rejection filter is also known as analog signal rejection filter because it is used to filter out analog television signal. Thus, it would have been obvious to the skilled in the art to modify the system of Park by providing the interchangeable NTSC/analog filter which can be used for both NTSC and PAL system along with a conversion circuitry.

Considering claim 22, Park discloses an IF filter and sync detector which determines the presence of sync pulses in the video signal and a sync extractor which then extracts the sync from the IF video signal.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 2-4, 8-9,11-15, 17-21 are allowed.
8. Claims 23-24 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
